

Chelsea Johnson

Chelsea Johnson was born and raised in Idaho and her and her husband Daniel have lived in Nampa for 20 years. She is an avid motorcycle rider, race car enthusiast and loves the great outdoor recreational opportunities Idaho has to offer. She has been involved in the Nampa community since her days running Darlene's Printing in Downtown Nampa. She currently serves the community by helping people buy and sell real estate. She has been and continues to be involved in leadership positions across a variety of boards, non-profits and service clubs, including Boys & Girls Club of Canyon County, Festival of Trees, and Nampa Kiwanis.

She is looking to serve on the Nampa Auditorium Board to help oversee the potential funds coming from hotel guests. She sees this as a great opportunity to relieve a bit of the tax burden on Canyon County citizens while also allowing for expansion, improvements and updates to the current event facilities we have. This provides a great solution for the taxpayer while also still maintaining local control over how those funds are allocated. She is excited to bring her business sense and logical thinking to serve the Nampa community.
